FOREWORD

EREIN do you behold the last recorded years of the Class of '29, first-born of Wesleyan the New.

Out from her arched colonial doors we go, and the fragile swinging lanterns throw their light before our feet, like the love and care of Alma Mater. In our hearts we bear the peace, the hope, the confidence that fellowship within her walls has brought us.

To this book there is a secret clasp, which, pressed in later years, will call before our eyes the ghosts of pages, too many and too dear for print, leaves clear or blurred, that these two covers bind—which we alone may see.

Herein you may behold some of the brighter scenes selected from innumerable charming pictures of these days.

DEDICATION)

To show that Wesleyan has not forgotten and can never forget one who has for twenty-two years faithfully and unassumingly "carried on" in work which she has made the chief interest of her heart, we, the members of the staff, dedicate the twenty-second volume of the Veterropt to

MISS BANKS ARMAND

In her is one who has truly given herself to the service of others, accomplishing more than many have ever dreamed. And in her is one of our dearest and sincerest friends.

MISS BANKS ARMAND

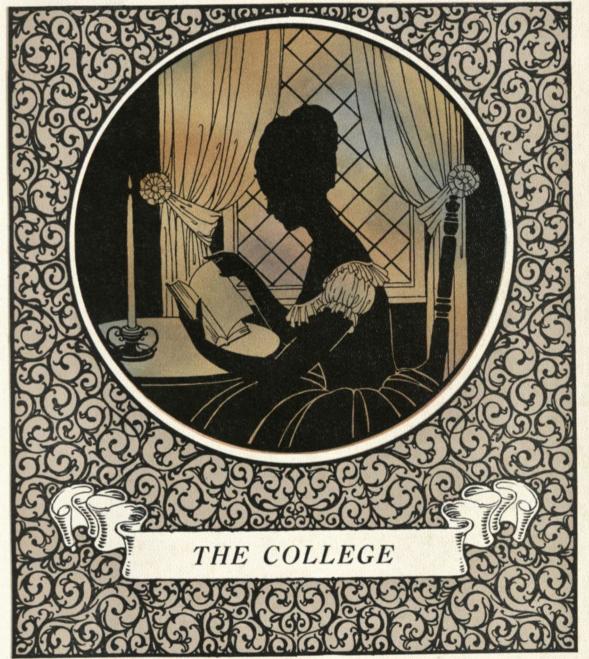

Rivoli

O Rivoli, thy birth was as the birth Of all things beautiful and glorious, As fair as Aphrodite's from the foam, As full of glory as the shining sun. I shall remember thee as crystallized From dreams of great, far-seeing minds who loved To see man's daughters seek the ways of God, And longed to realize their eager dreams Of marble halls. O Rivoli, when they and I are dust, Thou shalt go on, enduring far beyond The crumbling of each marble colonnade-For fires that never die, flame on thy hearths. To thee in all thy grandeur youth may come Through thee, in all its beauty, youth may move, And leave thee with thy fire in its soul To lighten other hearths with all that best In life to know.

WESLEYAN COLLEGE

Wesleyan College. Like a queen new-robed in vestments which were long only dream fabrics, but are now tangible and gleaming, Greater Wesleyan stands and faces the promising years.

No less the heart of Macon because of its situation outside the limits of the city, Wesleyan College is still Macon's pride. Leaving the Conservatory of Music which is increasing rapidly in itself, to keep life in the historic buildings on the old site, the spirit of Wesleyan has moved to its present location to expand into a beautiful estate of 170 acres, seven miles from Macon on the Dixie Highway.

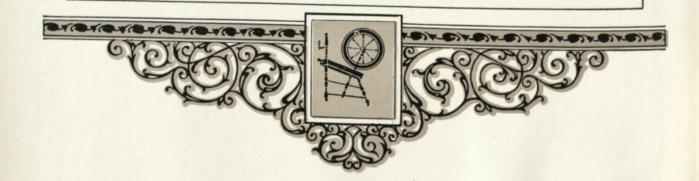

It is the present president, Dr. W. F. Quillian, who has led the company of far-sighted and beneficent supporters of Wesleyan progress. At the time of his accepting the position of president nothing definite had been done to bring about the Greater Wesleyan. With no sign of funds, but a tremendous amount of faith, Dr. Quillian led the campaign which made the recent plant a reality.

Many examples of self-sacrifice and generosity have been shown in the campaign for two million dollars which resulted in the erection of twelve colonially designed buildings in red brick and Georgia marble—symbols of the leading Southern college which Wesleyan is predicted to become in the future.

The Miser

Miserly me!

I would hoard each far-flung cloud, each wayward star,

I would take the freshness of spring, the extravagance of summer,

The bounty of autumn, the majesty of winter

And hide them deep, deep within the heart of me.

Cautiously, carefully, would I guard them until the end of day.

When chuckling, gloating, I would count my gold—

MARY FISKE, '29

Values

Take away all that fate asks for,
But leave me, I pray you, just these—
The white curve of land meeting ocean,
The sight of brave ships on the seas,
The sound of the wind calling, moaning,
The moon with its silver gold beams,
The beauty of stars and of twilight,
The wonder of yet unborn dreams.
These my treasures, I'll gather around me;
Let fate take away all the rest.
I'll but laugh as they leave me forever—
Kind fate! You have left me the best.

The New Gymnasium

HE NEW Wesleyan gymnasium is a companion to the dining room building. It is of harmonizing red brick trimmed in white wood and stone. Of rather austere lines, it lacks none of the exquisite symmetry characteristic of the entire group of new buildings. The swimming pool unit forms one complete wing of the building, connected only by a short stairway.

The main building includes two athletic floors, dressing rooms, showers, lockers and offices. The pool unit has its own showers, locker rooms, as well as drying rooms for suits.

Arched columns frame the entrance to the pool, and a walk of white and green tile extends around it. Seats for spectators occupy one side and end, great arched windows the opposite side, and an elevated diving platform the opposite end. The pool proper is of green and white tile. Green lines are blocked five feet apart, running lengthwise as guides in swimming. The depth of the water graduates from three feet to six inches in the shallow end, to eight feet, six inches in the deepest part.

Swimming in the new pool is only one of the many athletic features at the new college. Sports include basketball, tennis, baseball, archery, horseback riding, and hiking.

An elective course in eurythmics is offered to Juniors and Seniors.

CLIFFORD CLARK, Tennis Champion, '28

VARSITY PLAYERS

CLIFFORD CLARK

Ends her collegiate basketball career this year, having played four consecutive seasons on her respective class teams. She has also been a varsity soccer player during the past two years, winner of tennis championship in '28, and possessor of an examiner's badge in life saving. Cliff has done outstanding work in all athletics at Wesleyan.

MARGARET LAWRENCE

Came to Wesleyan this fall and led a team of fast, sporty little Freshmen to the basketball championship. Her excellent playing in the center won a varsity place for her.

NELL TROWBRIDGE

This is Nell's second year on the varsity team. This plucky little guard gives promise of a four-year's varsity record. Nell is an all-round athlete.

VARSITY PLAYERS

VIRGINIA TOWNSEND

Virginia was her captain's right-hand man. She played a quick, accurate running center for the Freshmen during the first of the series of games. Later she was switched to a forward position and showed herself equally capable in that position.

HELEN HALL

The frosh fast guard, shows promise as a well-rounded athlete for Wesleyan. She also brings a famous high school record with her.

BLANCH DUVALL

Little Blanch proved to be the highest score-gainer for the Freshman team. She had an excellent high school career behind her, and although she is small, she managed to out-twist her opposing guard.

DEFEAT SENIORS IN FINAL GAME OF PRESENT SEASON

MISS GROTE PRESENTS CUP

By AGNES KELLEY

HE FRESHMAN SIX stepped to the basketball championship of Wesleyan College last night when they easily defeated the Senior squad with a score of 26-12. At the close of the game Miss Ernestine Grote, head of the physical education department, presented to their captain, Margaret Lawrence, of Savannah, the athletic trophy which has been in the hands of the Seniors for the past year.

This was the first game in which the Seniors had met defeat. Although the frosh lost out in their first game on Thanksgiving day, they retaliated when they won over the Juniors and Sophomores last week. The frosh team as a whole has put up superior pass work and team co-operation during the entire season. From the standpoint of basketball technique they were due the basketball championship.

CENTERS STAR

The high spot of the game was the work of the Freshman centers, Lawrence and Hall. They managed to keep the ball in the Freshman territory the major part of the game.

Song of a Gym-Scarf

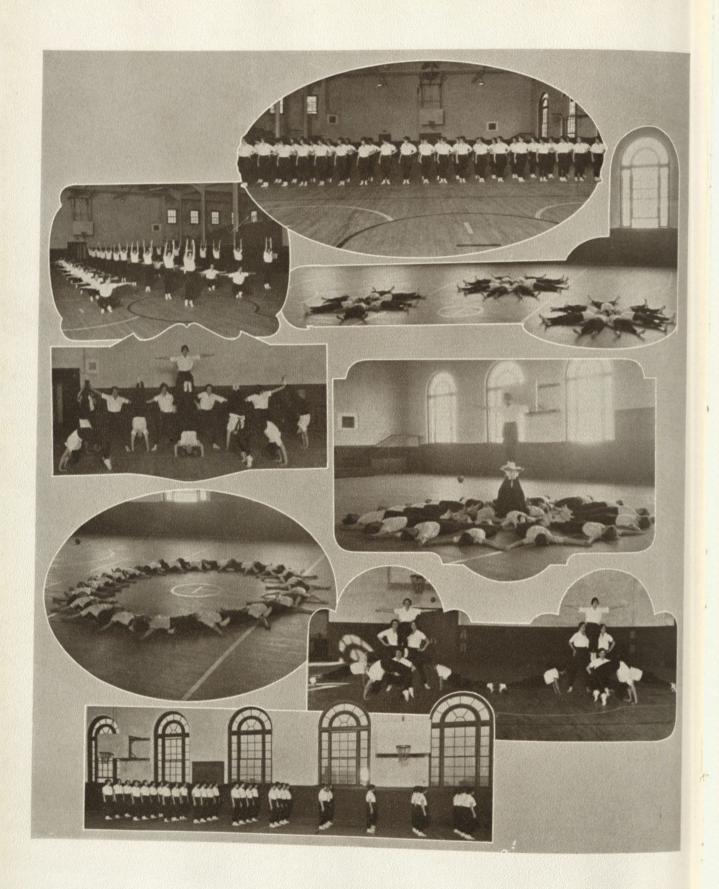

I bind my scarf across my brows And kneel, a nun, enchained by vows. But see, my veil is rosy-hued! No nun am I, with fear imbued-A harem maid of wistful grace, Shy-veiled before my master's face. Scarfs like mine are airy things That make one know the joy of wings! Soft-furled, my wings upon me lay-Aurora's robe, who lights the day-The royal mantle falls aside, And sweeter splendor veils the bride, Whose glory lingers on through life, While he who loves her calls her wife! No nun, nor bride, nor rose-fingered fay Is here, but just my scarf and I at play.

The Fine Arts

Here is found art, that precious gift
That from the gloom of a soul may lift
To seek the noble and the true
And paint the dull a brilliant hue.
Here too, dwells music, art divine!
That in the darkest soul doth find
A glorious, far shining light
To lead the wrong and guide the right.
And here doth dwell that noble art
That doth a charm to life impart!
Here life is told in song and story
For in these halls dwells Oratory!

GEORGIA-ALABAMA BUSINESS COLLEGE

MACON, GEORGIA

An exceptionally fine secretarial school and general commercial college.

People with good education can develop here an earning power that means success.

EUGENE ANDERSON, President

"My husband is learning to tune pianos by mail."
"Fine, I'll mail him mine."

"Professor, why are you so all agog?"

"Marvelous, I've just discovered an atom leading a double life."

Old lady: "Little boy, you don't chew tobacco, do you?" Little boy: "No, ma'm, but I can let you have a cigarette."

DAYLIGHT SAVING

First collegian: "Let's cut class this afternoon and take in a movie." Second speciman: "Sorry, old girl, can't do it—I need the sleep."

A sissy in Chicago is one that asks his mother for an air rifle.

A bachelor is a guy who didn't have a car when he was young.

"He's got a good line of wise cracks."
"Yeah, he's read every Ford in town."

The same of the sa

Prof. in Math: "What would you do if you had an eight-sided figure?" Frosh: "I'd go in a side show."

"How much is them plums?"

"Ten cents a peck."

"Whatcha think I am, a bird?"

"What makes you twitch so?"

"I just been to a flea circus, and I guess I must'a run away with the leading lady."

A. "So you're a salesman? What's your line?"

B. "Salt."
A. "I'm a salt seller, too."
B. "Shake."

Not a sound is heard from the Vitaphone as the leading lady speaks her mind.

WHAT IS A UNIVERSITY?

Calling a group of buildings a University doesn't make it a University.

A University must have money, men, ideals, and standards. Money for buildings, equipment, and operating expenses. Scholarly men—men whose love of learning is animated by even greater love of God and man—for a faculty. Ideals of character and conduct which tend to develop the higher and nobler side of the students' nature. Standards of training which insure that its students will receive what a University purports to give: Instruction of the quality accepted and approved by the highest accrediting agencies.

In addition, a real University must have research facilities through which its scholars may strive to extend the boundaries of human knowledge; it must also provide extension courses through which any earnest man or woman may obtain the advantages of University training by correspondence or by afternoon and evening study.

To be a University in every sense of this definition is Emory University's purpose.
